High quality material and colours for you to choose

In the kitchen, plastic is an essential element.

Our plastic parts are elegantly molded in modern and minimalist shapes.

Not only are they easy to clean and even dish washer proof, in order to get rid of ugly stains, but also shock resistant, so that they won't fall apart, when accidentally dropped.

They will last for the lifetime of your kitchen, while at the same time looking as beautiful as on the first day.

Finishes and materials

Continuous design is now also possible BEHIND the cabinet door. All of our products are available in different color options allowing for additional style and design in your kitchen. You can choose from a sheer endless combination of plastic and metal parts to find the right mix to perfectly suit your overall kitchen design Metal has been sculpted for centuries in many shapes and forms.

At Kesseböhmer, with almost 70 years of experience, we have mastered the art of creating durable, while at the same time aesthetic looking pull-outs.

Special emphasis is therefore put on the metal parts' finishings, in order to guarantee highest quality, so that all our products are resistant to rust, which is especially important in Asia's wet climates.

The timeless options of powder-coating finish cater to everyone's taste, need and budget.

Cleaning

// The kitchen is generally one of the rooms that needs the most attention – we want it to be clean!

Having a pull-out storage system with fixed frame and non-detachable parts may turn the cleaning process into a complex and tiring experience. Don't make your life complicated!

The parts can be taken out of the frame, disassembled and cleaned very easily.

Plastic parts - wash with warm water and cleaning detergent by hand or put plastic parts into a dishwasher.

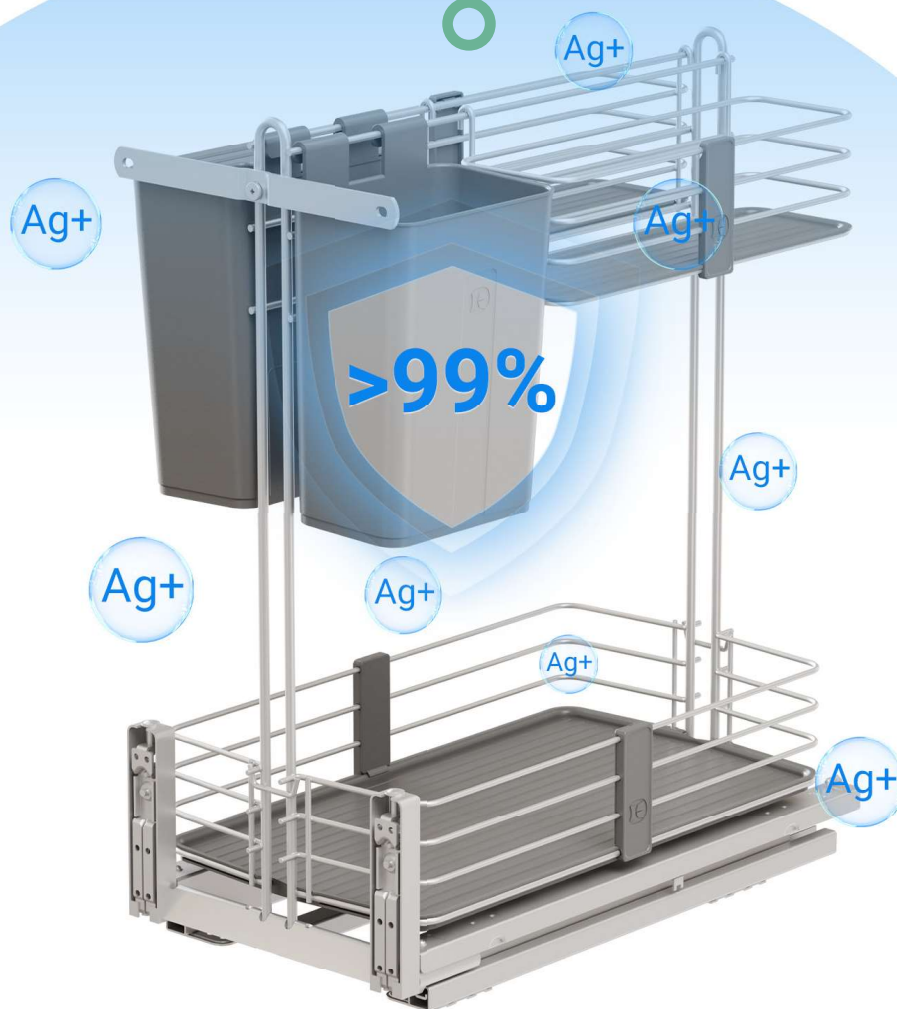

Metal parts - use soft damp-dry fabric. It is that simple!

With special antibacterial coating to keep you and your family safe.

AGENTline comes with a special antibacterial silver ion coating, which provides effective protection against harmful bacteria and microbes, reducing the risk of infection and illness. Therefore making it a long lasting and excellent choice for any household to keep the family safe.

// Looks outstanding and functions perfectly! Thanks to clever designed spacers, there is a place for both rice and noodle bowls. Your bowls, plates, pots and pans will love it!

German approach

Profound analysis of typical kitchen design, cooking habits and commonly used tableware in Asia was carried out to bring diningAGENT to local consumers. We studied which tableware is normally used in Asian families, how many bowls and plates are used per a household, how the bowls and plates should be fixed inside of the storage system to keep them safe, how to take the plates fast and easy out of holders. That's the German approach for a successful product development.

diningAGENT accommodates typical dishes used in the daily life of the families in different parts of Asia.

// With secure metal holders your tableware will be safe when opening and closing!

Drying

Place clean dishes into the modules on the worktop and move them back into diningAGENT frame.

Patented design for the drip tray! No need to wipe dry the plates.

// No more worries about water drops – metal holders are located above the tray level, your plates will not be standing in the water.

Cleaning

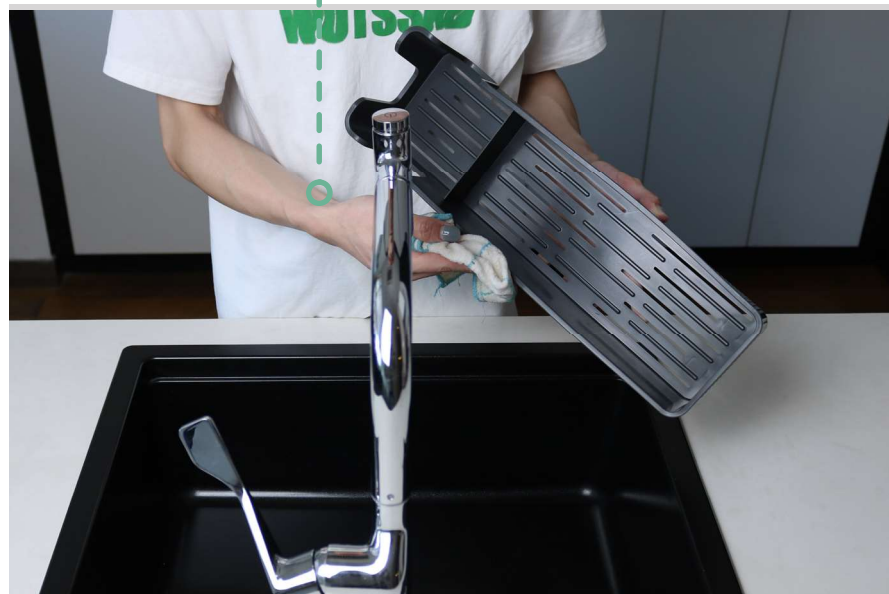

Getting it all clean and tidy can be a bit of a challenge after using a storage system for a while.

How to clean it? Is it easy to be cleaned? Can every part be cleaned?

These are the questions that come across our minds very often. We want our home to be safe, so we care a lot about the hygiene.

diningAGENT modular design makes the cleaning process smooth, fast and carefree.

// The parts can be taken out of the frame, disassembled and cleaned easily. Plastic parts - wash with warm water and cleaning detergent by hand or put plastic parts into a dishwasher. Metal parts - use soft damp-dry fabric. It is that simple!

Easy to air dry

Simply place your washed dishes into one of the individual dish rack modules, then transfer the rack from your countertop right into our diningAGENT.

// Innovative drip tray design! No more drying dishes by hand. Say goodbye to water-drip worries with the rack positioned above the drip tray, your dishes will never touch water again.

Individual & Modular

Flexible design assures that each bowl rack or plate rack module can be individually removed for convenient and effortless use.

// Each module is user-oriented, fully considering your needs. Adjust the position and direction based on your personal usage and handling habits. Moreover, these modules can be completely disassembled without requiring any tools, making it easy and convenient for you to thoroughly clean them..
